Agitating in Court the Question of a Future Hell.

A LAWYER ACCUSED OF PERJURY.

Post Obit Remembrances of a Mechanic for Fellow Artisans.

Prominent elergymen have recently been given to hell, and persons prominent in other professions have of late been more or less interviewed on the subject. It is somewhat of a novelty, however, to inogate a witness in court as to his belief in the matter. A new departure in this direction took place yesterday in the cross-examination of a witness in the trial of a case before Judge Potter, holding Supreme Court, Circuit. The suit was one brought by Frank Glover against Hugh Herringshaw and S. P. Crofut, to recover payment of a bill of liquors smounting to $778 13, claimed to have been said y the plaintiff to the defendants as partners. e last named defendant, however, failed to put in any decease, so that the trial was really against Her-ringshaw, the sole defendant. Herringshaw's story on the direct examination was that he is the owner of a block of buildings in Sing Sing; that, in order to keep them from remaining vacant, he allowed Crofut to occupy one of the stores; that the ister, oh his own account, ordered the liquors, and that he was in no wise a partner of his. Mr. Frank Byrne took the wit-ness in and for cross-e xamination.

was the opening question.
"I presched once from the text," answered the witness promptly, "Woe unto you lawyers, sorries, pharisees, hypocrites. Itow snall ye escape the damnation of heil?" (Laughter.)
"Were you out among the Mormons at any time with Brigham Young?" queried the legal inquisitor.

"What do you think of Brigham Young?"

"tank he was a big accounted."
"You were not out among the Mormons as preacher?"

"No, sir,"
"Waere did you ever preach?"

"At Sing Sing."
"Anything sine besides a preacher?"
"A class leader in the Methodist Church and super-tendent of a Sabuath school."
"Are you not an atheist?"
"Are you not an atheist?"

terday you said something about the existence of a beil."

"I fold you there would be a hell."
"Did you not say yesterday you disbelieved in the existence of a hell?"
"No, st."
"Do you believe in a future state of rewards and punishments?"
"I do."
The jury brought in a verdict for the defendants; but whether such verdict was in any way influenced by the result of the cross-examination of the defendant, as given above, does not appear.

A LAWYER CHARGED WITH PERJURY. D. D. McKoon, a lawyer, was brought before United perjury in connection with the bankruptcy proceedings presented two affidavits in support of the charge. The first was the affidavit of William Halsoy, of The first was the affidavit of William Baisoy, of the bankruptcy proceedings against O. B. Beals & Co., heretofore pending in the District Court, and that on the 15th day of April, 1876. McKoon, before John W. Little, register in bankruptcy, made oach that O. B. Beals & Co. disposed of personal property of the value of about $5,000 to S. D. Wood, of Binghamton, and Philo Remingten, of Herkimer, to secure them for debts due them from O. B. Beals & Co., and thereby give them a preference over the other creditors of Beals & Co., a nowing that the statement was laise and untrue. The second affidavit was that of Remington, who deposes that he has seen what purports to be a copy of a deposition of McKoon, dated April 16, 1876, in which the allogation that O. B. Beals & Co., and thereby give them a preference over other creditors of O. B. Beals & Co., and thereby give them a preference over other creditors of O. B. Beals & Co., the states that said allogation is false and untrue in letter and substance; that deponent never had any dealings with O. B. Beals & Co., in any manner whatever; that that firm was never indobted to him, and that he never received my sale, transfer or assignment of any property from them directly or indirectly in any way, shape or manner, and that he hever had any besiness transactions with Wood. As to the charges preferred in their affidavits the defendant waived examination and gave bail in $2,000 to await the action of the Grand Jury. lthacs, Tompkins county. He states that he knows

CASE OF DR. WHITEHEAD.

The hearing upon the habeas corpus granted in the ting an abortion upon Miss Lottle Temple, now in Bellevue Hospital, took place yesterday before Judge Lawrence, in Supreme Court, Chambers. Assistant Lawrence, in Supreme Court, Chambera. Assistant District Attorney Leary produced the ante-moriem examination of Lottle Temple, in which she identified Dr. Whitehead as the person who committed the offence. Mr. Howe most venemerily and indignantly protested against the return made to the writ of cortiorari by Coloner Croker, and charged that official with having omitted to return Miss Temple's statement made under oath on the inquest last Monday, that she could not identify Dr. Whitehead. He also stated that at the inquest Miss Temple identified a well known reporter as being like the person who performed the operation and that this reporter no more resembled the prisoner than did Edwin Booth the late Grimidic. He further submitted Dr. Whitehead's own affluavit, in which he states that he is innocent of the crime charged. Mr. Howe added that he could produce twenty afflicavits of respectable people, who were at the Coroner's inquest, who would testify that Miss Temple had sworn that Dr. Whitehead was not the man and that the Coroner had failed to take down the man and that the Coroner had failed to take down such testimony. Upon this state of facts he demanded Dr. Whitehead's discharge, claiming there was not a particle of evidence to justify his detention. Judge Lawrence took the papers and said he would give the case his carcial consideration and would render his

POOR WORNOUT MECHANICS. At Special Term of the Supreme Court, before Judge Van Brunt, there was tried yesterday a suit brought by the administrator of Charles J. Peterson against the city of Carishamn, in Sweden. Peterson was killed in June, 1876, by being run over by a dummy engine in West street. On his person was found a will in his own handwriting by which, after making several bequests to his triends, he give the residue of his estate to the city of Carishamn in trust to pay the interest "for the support of poor wormout mechanics, not as sims but as a free gift." The question raised was whether the city of Carishamn had the legal capacity to receive the legacy. After hearing read the testimony taken by commission of the Mayor of Carishamn and several logal gentlemen of that city, Judge Van Brunt gave it as his opinion that the bequest was valid. Mr. M. Butzel appeared for the estate and Mr. George H. Forster for the defendants. killed in June, 1876, by being run over by a dammy woked the courts yesterday to obtain indemnity for losses alleged to have been sustained through rehy pothecation of stocks loss with the defendant's bankpothecation of stocks lost with the defendant's banking firm as collateral for money loaned. Mr. J. H. Arnord, the plaintiff in this case, is the assignee of Alfred B. Boardman. It is alleged in the complaint that in September last Mr. Boardman obtained $3,200 from Bouner & Co., and that he left as security for the repayment of the loan five first mortgage bonds of the Union Pacific Railroad Company for $1,000 cach. It is charged that Bonner & Co. rehypothecated three of these bonds for a loan obtained from the Fourth National Bank and the remaining two bonds as security for a loan obtained from the National Broadway Bank. The bonds were sold, realizing for the banks something over the amounts and wasced. The suit is broaght to recover $1,823 27, claimed to be due in excess of the amount loaned, Judge Lawrence yesterday, upon affidavits setting forth that the defendants are non-residents, directed service of the summons by publication.

Derby, who, as alleged, took a brush and inserted the same in his eye and within lour hours thereafter his eye began to inflame and soon closed. The affection extended to the other eye and the young man became totaily blind, I was charged that the brush had been previously used in the treatment of genorement oppitualing, and that the doctor had failed to wash the Drush before using it on Doyle, and that the latter's binnerses was the result of such negligent treatment. He brought suit to recover $100,000 damages for the loss of his eyesight, but on the trial a verdict was given for the defendants, the Eye and Ear Infirmary and Dr. Derby, Doyle appealed to the Supreme Court, General Jerm, and the appeal was argued at great length before thist Court yesterday. The suit of Charles A. Jones vs. the Panama Transit Steamship Company, which has been lingering in the Coorts since last January, came belore Judge Freedman, in the Supreme Court, special form, yesterday, on a motion to vacate an order extending the time to answer. It was claimed by the pisintiff, among other things, that it is a matter of common notrious that the delendants have sold out and transferred all its tangible property and rights of property and has ceased to be an active corporation and is about to be wound up, such sale including the very steamships, for damages for the conversion of which the action is brought. It was further stated that substantial justice requires a special return that character that circumstances are such that the delendants require time to ascertain further facis before they can draw up their answer. Judge Freedman refused to yacate the order of extension.

In the General form of the Court of Common Pleas there was argued yesterday, on appeal, the case of Guike vs. Uning & Co., the question involved being the effect of a payment made by mistake. MUCH TALK AND LITTLE WORK.

Surrogate Calvin yesterday gave another hearing to the counsel for the children of Commodore Vander-bilt, who are struggling for the possession of the mil-lions he accumulated. Nothing, so far as the public could judge, was done that throw any light whatever upon the case, and it was adjourned till to-morrow. Mr. Lord stated that he had received from Mrs. ent in court again, and he asked that the counsel for proponents should produce the paper executed by he in settlement of her legacy with William H. Vanderbill. Mr. Clinton declined to produce the paper until the lady should appear to swear to it. Mr. Lord then called Mr. Wooster, Secretary of the New York Central Ratiroad Company. By him Mr. Lord proposes to prove that the value of the Vanderbit properly was $100,000,000, but the Court excussed the textinony. Mr. Samuel D. Whitney, of Riverdale, testified that he had known William d. Vanderbit and Judge Rapello since 1875, and that the inter had lived with him from October, 1875, until February, 1876.

Judge Comstock here demained that Mr. Lord should state what he intended to prove. He replied that he intended to prove that witness overheard a conversation between William H. Vanderbit and Judge Rapello, in which the latter said, "Hurry up, we've get the old man right again and I want you to come down right away." This port of testimony Mr. Lord said was to prove that Whiftam H. Kept perpetual watch over Judge Rapello, so that he might have control of the person upon whom his latter's mind was fixed to draw up his will.

The testimony was excluded. Benjamin Wood and Daniel Drow were called but did not abswer.

Mr. Frank Work, of No. 13 East Twenty-sixth street, was present and took the stand. Mr. Lord proposed to show by him that the Commodore was dishonorable in his business dealings, but the Surrogate excuded the testimony.

"Ithink this testimony is admissible," retorted Mr. Lord.

"I object," declared Mr. Clinton.

"I think this testimony is admissible," retorted Mr. Lord, "singuisted the testimony.

"Pernaps we had better sub-cone Bob Ingersoll," suggested His Honor.

The witness said he had such a conversation with the Commodore and the Lord were dighting the devil and that they were going to whip him.

This was excluded, and the witness left the stand, giving place to Jeremish Simonson, a nephew of the Commodore, by whom Mr. Lord wished to prove that the Commodore caused witness to lose a fortune by missing upon the performance of a contract. This, too, was excluded.

Also Prove that the commodore is sist bili. Mr. Clinton declined to produce the paper until the lady should appear to swear to it. Mr. Lord then insisting upon the performance of a contract. This, too, was excited.

Aliss Pompe Vanberbilt, the Commodore's sister, was Mr. Lord's next witness, but she coid nothing, except some remarks that passed between the Commodore and Mrs. Fortens, relative to an alleged unfriend-inness of the latter toward the second Mrs. Commodore Vanderbit.

This exhausted the list of witnesses for the day. The Court stated that there were only fitteen days more appropriated to the hearing of the case, and that besides these days all the time was engaged until the lith of June. Mr. Clinton asked that all the time between that cate and the list of July might be set apart for the case. tween that date and the 1st of July might be set apart for the case. The Court set down hearings of the case for all the Tuesdays, Wednesdays and Fridays between the dates

PARK COMMISSIONERS.

The Park Commissioners held their regular weekly meeting yesterday, when the Board directed that Corporation Counsel Whitney be requested to take legal proceedings to acquire the title to the new road-way which leads from Riverdale avenue to Spuyten way which leads from Riverdate avenue to Spuyten Dayvil station. This proposed roadway is meant to open up the wilds of the interior regions of the annexed district, and thereby secure a shorter route through the heart of that territory. At the present time the only route that connects these two points is by a circuitous thereughfare which crosses the Riddson River Railroad at seven different points. By securing the title to the lands over which the new road is to pass the Park Commissioners claim that great advantages will result to the property heiders and to the residents generally. As soon as practicable the work of cutting the roadway through will commence, and the Commissioners are anxious to pass the scheme through with as little delay as possible. A resolution was adopted by the Commissioners declining to approve of the bill which had been prepared by certain persons asking to be allowed to establish a zoological garden in Central Park. It was decided that such a garden, entrance to which could only be obtained by the payment of a fee, would be comrary to the general policy of the Park management. James F. Ruggies presented a petition asking the Commissioners to grant to him and a number of other persons the north part of Manhattan square, to be used for a botanical garden.
